VL8

The residences of the VL8 project are prepared to enjoy privacy and lead people to think beyond their home as an extension of their habitat, where they feel comfortable and healthy. The balconies run along the entire perimeter, allowing the indoor/ outdoor connection, enhanced by the vegetation in the facades.

The concept of incorporating nature in the building design emerged to soften the bond between the city and the landscape, broadening people's perception of continuity. That represents a profound change in the way we thought architecture.
